WOMEN'S ORGANIZATIONS.

The members of the Charity association will meet Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Wincheser Cooley to sew for the poor children of the city.

All members of the association, and also their friends who are interested in charity work, are especially invited to attend, and to bring 25 cents to pay for materials used in making garments for the needy children of the city.

An event of peculiar interest was the meeting of the D. A. R., held Monday afternoon at the Elks' club.

The club rooms were beautifully decorated in mistletoe, Christmas bells and garlands of smilax, while red shaded candles illumined the scene.

The hostesses of the afternoon were: Mesdames F. A. Hodge, Irving McNeill, W. L. Pitcaithly, Frank W. Brown, H. C. Dyer and Miss Clara Mundy.

At a short business session it was decided to offer a medal to the pupils of the eighth grade, and of the first year of the high school, for the best paper on United States history.

The committee appointed to arrange for the entertainment to be given on February 22 was requested to bring its plans before the next meeting of the chapter, to be discussed and voted upon.

A delightful program included: a reading from Richard Carvel, "A Maryland Christmas," by Mrs. Irving McNeill; Christmas hymn, "Bending Over the Cradle Low," by Mrs. Courtney Camp, and a pleasing recitation by Mrs. J. F. Miller.

At the close of the program the flags decorating the mantel were drawn back, bringing to view numbers of stockings hung above the fireplace and containing hobbons and Christmas quotations for each guest. Upon lifting the flags, Mrs. F. A. Hodge quoted the lines, "Make Me a Child Again Just for Tonight," and expressed the wish that the occasion would recall many happy memories of childhood.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, terminating a most delightful afternoon.

The art department of the Woman's club met this afternoon in the club rooms. The program, given under the direction of Mrs. C. H. Campbell, was one of unusual interest.

Last evening the music department of the Woman's club gave the first of a series of evening musicals. The first was "Bohemian Girl," and every number on the program was given with feeling and musical taste. Mrs. L. T. Moore and Mrs. Margaret Buckler Stevenson were special favorites with the audience. Mrs. Buckler Stevenson being compelled to respond to third encore.

The affair was held at the home of the president of the club, Mrs. W. R. Brown. A conservative estimate of those present would be at least 200 of El Paso's musical talent and society folk. The soft lights and the glowing warmth within, emphasized the pervading spirit of hospitality and put the audience in a happy receptive mood for the following excellent program in charge of Mrs. L. T. Moore and Miss Barnes.

greens and Christmas bells. A short business session was held, in which each girl reported the amount made at her table in the bazar held the last of November, the whole amounting to $27. Then, in order to worthy of the name of the club, they decided to have a box at the Sunday school on Christmas morning to hold gifts for the children of the Mexican school and to ask all members of the Sunday school to bring something to put into the box, whether clothing, food, toys or money.

After adjournment of the business session, the hostess gave each girl a wire tied with red ribbon and they were told to hunt sleighbells. This made a pleasant jingle for some time, and the one who secured the largest number received the prize, a dainty white apron.

Then it was announced that Santa Claus had been there and they must look for their stockings of candy, which they found among the greens on the dining room mantel. Toys and cake were served and the girls made several original and unique Christmas wishes for their hosts.

Something Here for Every Member of the Family

ALL your Christmas gifts can be selected here. We show gift things that will please the older members of the family, and things to delight the young people. Just to gain an idea of the resources of the "Feldman Gift Shop," read the classified lists below.

For Your Mother

Framed pictures—a big picture for the living room or some little intimate thing for her own room. "Van Briggles" and "Royal Doulton" pottery. Old Dutch glassware, copies of the antique Dutch glassware, also copies of English antiques. Something in "Cordova" leather—a fotograf frame, hand bag, card case, pillow, etc. Tapestry and tile trays.

For Your Big Sister

A Craftsman hand bag—ozone leather with ornaments of beaten brass. A hand bag in the beautiful Cordova leather or a card case, purse, fotograf frame, desk set or watch fob. A handsomely bound book. A framed picture—perhaps a dainty watercolor for her bedroom.

For Your Father

(or Big Brother)

A safety razor—the "Gillette," "Durham Duplex" or "Auto Strop." Something in leather—cigar or cigarette case, wallet, slippers, pocket fotograf cases, etc. A beautifully bound book from the famous Mosher Press. If he loves Dickens, a terra cotta plaque representing some famous English scene. A framed picture for his "den." A watch fob in Cordova leather.

For the Younger Boy

(or Girl)

A kodak, kodak album, developing tank, enlarging camera, etc. A microscope, which reflects post cards, newspaper clippings, any picture or print you may have. A microscope will furnish many pleasant evenings for the whole family. A good picture, well framed.

These, of course, are only "suggestive" lists. A few minutes in the "Gift Shop" will show you a wealth of out-of-the-ordinary and very acceptable gifts for every member of the family.
